Introduction

- Properly citing the sources for a research paper is crucial for a writer to avoid plagiarism and build credibility.

What is referencing?

- Standardized way of acknowledging the sources of information and ideas used in your assignments and which allows the sources to be identified.

What requires referencing?

- Somebody else's words or ideas.
- Exact words or a "unique phrase" from somewhere.
- Diagrams, illustrations, charts, and pictures.
- Ideas that others have given in conversations or over email

Need of references:

- To distinguish your own ideas from those of someone else.
- To cite different points of view.
- To validate what you are writing, by referring to documented evidence.
- To integrate information by assessing, comparing, contrasting or evaluating it.

Need of reference

- To refer to other research that leads up to your study.
- To highlight a pertinent point by quoting the original.
- To enable readers to consult the original source independently.
- To avoid plagiarism.

Different styles of writing references:

- American Psychological Association (APA)
- Vancouver style
- Modern Language Association (MLA)
- Chicago Manual of Style
- Council of Science Editors (CSE)
- American Medical Association (AMA)
- Harvard referencing

APA style of referenci ng

Introduction

- Widely used author-date system of referencing.
- Appropriate for psychology, nursing, business, anthropology, education, economics and other social science texts.

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- Throughout the text of your paper you need to acknowledge the sources used in your writing.
- While paraphrasing, acknowledge your sources.

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- If you use the name of the author(s) in your writing, place the year of publication of the work in parentheses after the author's name.
- Mullane (2006) conducted research into the effect of...

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- Referring to a work in the text of your paper, place the author's last name and the year of publication of the work in parentheses at the end of the sentence.
- The research conclusively proved a correlation between the results (Mullane, 2006).

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- While directly quoting fewer than 40 words, enclose the quotation by double quotation marks within the text.
- Provide the year of publication of the work along with the page number(s) of the quote in parentheses.
- Mullane (2006) referred to this correlation as a “statistical anomaly” (p. 118), contributing....

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- When there are no page numbers, but the sources contains headings or numbered paragraphs, use a section name or paragraph number.
- e.g. Jones (2008, Introduction section) or Roberts (2008, para. 5).

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- If the paragraphs are not numbered, cite the heading and the number of the paragraph following the heading.
- e.g. Anderson (2005, Discussion section, para. 2)

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- If the quotation is greater than 40 words it should be displayed in a double-spaced, indented block without quotation marks.

Mullane (2006) stated that:

If any similar qualitative research is to be undertaken in the future....(p. 66).

In-text citation: Referencing sources within the text

- If you use more than one source to write a statement in your paper, the citation can be presented using semi-colons between works as follows:

...and a number of studies have shown identical results (Sanders, 2008; Smith, 2009).

Reference list

- Includes details of the sources cited in your paper.
- Starts on a separate page at the end of your assignment paper and is titled References.
- Each item cited in the reference list must have been cited in your paper.

Reference list

- Double spaced (no line spaces between references) with hanging indents used for the second and subsequent lines of each entry.
- A hanging indent is where the left line starts at the left margin and subsequent lines are indented (approx. $\frac{1}{2}$ inch or six spaces).

Reference list

- Italics is the preferred format for titles of books, journals and videos.
- Article and chapter titles are not italicized or put in quotation marks.
- Volume numbers are italicized but issue numbers are not.

Reference list

Capitalization Book titles -

- Capitalise the first letter of the first word of the title, and the first letter of the first word after a colon.

e.g. Ageing and aged care in Australia

Brave new brain: Conquering mental illness in the era of the genome

Reference list

- Article, chapter or section titles - Capitalize the first letter of the first word of the title, and the first letter of the first word after a colon.

e.g. Personal resilience as a strategy for surviving and thriving in the face of workplace adversity: A literature review.

Writing reference
